A View of Present Day Politics.

"Political life everywhere is sufficiently lowering. Everywhere the use of money, patronage and chicane constitutes both a menace and an affront to democratic government. The candidate for office not more in Kentucky than elsewhere, not more in the democratic party than in the republican party, must conform to requirements which may well stagger self-respecting manhood and give pause to the most eager ambition. Hence the mediocrity of contemporary politics. Hence the prevailing inferiority of our public men. We are passing through an area of the commonplace, irradiated chiefly by vanity and noise. One set of claimants, as a rule, are not much better than another set. One ring is turned down to make room for another ring. Year in and year out, in all the states, and in both parties, it is the same old nauseating drive; not a gleam of originality or courage; not a ray of disinterestedness; but one unending stream of blatant self-assertion and transparent cant. The consequence is that parties are at sea, the country drifts with the current, happily thus far prosperous, each political organism shifting for itself whilst waiting for its pilot."

HENRY WATTERSON,
In Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Building of a City.

"Greater Ocala" is the slogan of the Banner, and to that end Editor Harris proposes the annexation of Silver Springs, located about five miles from Ocala. The purpose of such consolidation is to secure freight rates on a water basis for Ocala, as the Banner complains that owing to the present railway tariff the growth of the city is retarded. "For more than thirty years, we have tried to build a city of Ocala," says the bright editor, and from the cleverness of the plan just announced, it looks as though the fertility of his mind increases with each year of struggle. May the Greater Ocala for which he is working soon be realized.—Pensacola Journal.

account doesn't matter with us—a number of little ones make big business. Start small if you must—but start. We have a lot of comfortable accounts that grew from smaller ones. You can check out as you please.

Munroe and Chambliss,
BANKERS,
Ocala, : : : Florida.

A puny child is always an anxiety to parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomach's labor but they don't strengthen it. Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach nourishes the nerves and increases the action of the blood making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for children's use, on account of its body building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to the taste and contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a valuable aid when the bowels are irregular. They are small, Children take them readily.

A Good Cough Medicine.

From the Gazette, Toowoomba, Australia.
I find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an excellent medicine. I have been suffering from a severe cough for the last two months, and it has effected a cure. I have great pleasure in recommending it.—W. C. Wockner. This is the opinion of one of our oldest and most respected residents, and has been voluntarily given in good faith that others may try the remedy and be benefitted, as was Mr. Wockner. ## What's the Matter with Lake City?

The proprietors of the Citizen Reporter, of Lake City, would like very much to publish a paper every day in the year, excepting Sundays, but we are deterred from doing so because we do not believe it would be a paying investment. Gainesville and Ocala, according to the census, are smaller towns than Lake City, and each supports live, thriving money-making dailies. It does seem that Lake City should at least support one.—Citizen Reporter.
